

Who governs, who works, who sits outside

Goods on Country is a DGR1 charity led by 100% Indigenous Directors. Two people are employed. Nobody else is paid centrally in this plan.

Members

We are working on making the community organisations that take Goods beds or run a production facility members of Goods on Country, the charity. It is a working idea, being worked through with the board. Nothing has changed yet.

↓ elect

The board of The Butterfly Movement Ltd

At submission: Kristy Bloomfield, Audrey Deemal, Sonia Mascolo (transitional director).

Elected at the AGM on 12 October 2026: Kristy Bloomfield, Audrey Deemal, Jeremy Donovan.

The board carries responsibility for purpose, assets and organisational decisions. The board handover is in progress and no chair has been appointed.

↓ employs

Nicholas Marchesi

Co-founder and project lead. Runs production, supply and the facility builds.

Benjamin Knight

Co-founder, story and technology. Runs the model, the money and the funder relationships.

Neither employee is a director. Making is paid work in community, costed inside the price of each bed.

Outside the organisation

Community organisations

Community partners are independent organisations with their own boards. They decide how beds are used, who is paid and what is made next.

A Curious Tractor Pty Ltd

Owned by the two employees. Does research and development. Orders are invoiced by A Curious Tractor Pty Ltd for now.

Standard Ledger

Accountants. Documenting the carve-out of the earlier Goods trading history into the FY26 accounts.
